PREFACE
The Cedar Lake Cemetery

The Cedar Lake Cemetery is located on the south side of County Road 20, just east of Cedar Creek, about midway between County Road 23 and County Road 27, in Smithfield Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.

In the summer of 1999 I copied all the inscriptions from the Headstones in the Cedar Lake Cemetery that were available and legible. This cemetery is in a deteriorating condition. Many of the older Headstones are broken, flat on the ground and illegible. The cemetery no longer has any resources for maintenance and thus has become a ward of the township trustee as required by law. This includes for the most part, picking up limbs and mowing the grass.

It seems there are very few records for this cemetery. I went to the courthouse and searched for records. The earliest information I could find was on February 1, 1855. John Pincheon and Susan Pincheon sold a tract of land in the northeast quarter of Section 31 in Smithfield Township to George Powell. After the land deed description it said, except ½ acre burying ground.

On January 18, 1866 – George Powell (estate) to Wellington W. Farrington (guardian for Benjamin Powell, a minor). This deed said, except ½ acre burying ground.

On September 13, 1867 – Benjamin Powell and wife to James Powell, except ½ acre burying ground.

On February 12, 1868 – James Powell to John Bohler. Although the description includes the area of the burying ground, it does not mention it. This tract contained 20 acres.

On January 13, 1876 – John and Susannah D. Bohler to Joel E. Thomson. This deed says, survey to begin at northeast corner of "Old Burying Ground", and gives location of "Old Burying Ground" and its dimensions. This deed does not except the "Old Burying Ground" but does say, excepting all legal highways. It was not necessary to except the "Old Burying Ground" because the 1 acre tract description did not include the "Old Burying Ground." This tract adjoined and laid east and south of the "Old Burying Ground" and contained one acre. Joel E. Thomson probably bought this one acre tract with the intention of extending the "Old Burying Ground." After Joel E. Thomson bought this one acre tract as well as a farm adjacent to it, he kept it for the remainder of his life, as did all the other Thomson owners.

After January 13, 1876 for the next more than a century each transfer involved the settlement of an estate except on October 19, 1959 Mary E. Thomson sold the farm to her son, Glen S. Thomson, but kept a life lease on the residence. Glen died in 1977 and having no children the Thomson property was transferred out of the family.

All while the Thomsons owned and transferred this land, there is no mention of the "Old Burying Ground." I could not ascertain an owner for the "Old Burying Ground." The auditor's transfer office plat shows a "Cedar Lake Cemetery" but it has no identification number, which means they have nowhere to look for information. Some suggested this record may have been destroyed in the temporary courthouse fire. I doubt it ever had any more records. I have reason to believe that it was started on land owned by John Pincheon and when he sold adjoining land he kept this ½ acre and this excepted ½ acre followed along for several subsequent transfers. As time went on who was left who could transfer it? Being a cemetery it was overlooked. Please remember, this is not a fact, but only my theory. The Thompsons must have acquired the "Old Burying Ground" some way because in the settlement of an estate the heirs signed off to Roger C. Thomson 11 burial plots and gave their size (10 ft. X 20 ft.) and numbers.

These lots were sold to individuals by Roger C. Thomson for $6.00 each later. Seven of these plots were located in the "Old Burying Ground" and four were in the Thomson addition. I found 11 deeds in the county records for lots sold to individuals, some say Thomson 1st, 2nd, or 4th Addition in the Cedar Lake Cemetery. The first mention I found of the Cedar Lake Cemetery was in a deed signed by Joel E. Thomson in 1882. I believe it was Joel E. Thomson who gave to the cemetery the name of Cedar Lake.

At the County surveyor's office, I obtained a plat map of the Cedar Lake Cemetery. It makes no reference to the "Old Burying Ground." This plat map shows the "Old Burying Ground" and the Thomson Cemetery all platted as one unit. The east boundary of the "Old Burying Ground" is in the area where the main entrance drive is now located. The south boundary is near where the driveway runs east and west. The lots are 10 ft. long east and west and 20 ft. wide north and south and very adequate for four burials. There are 112 – 10 ft. X 20 ft. lots in the "Old Burying Ground," 112 – 10 ft. X 20 ft. lots east of the main drive, 58 – 10 ft. X 20 ft. and 14 – 10 ft. X 10 ft. lots and several partial lots south of the "Old Burying Ground."

The description of this "Old Burying Ground" was given in chains and links and fractions thereof and when converted to feet came out as odd fractions.

Some of the earliest burials I found Headstones for were: Mary Wickham 1842 aged 50 yr. 5 mo. 7 da., John Pincheon, son of J. and Susannah Pincheon 1844 aged 10 yr. 19 da., Hannah Pincheon, daughter of J. and Susannah Pincheon 1844 aged 9 mo. 20 da. Through the 1850s and thereafter, there were regularly quite a few burials in this cemetery. In more recent years burials have diminished until at the present time, they are quite rare. Many of the Headstones are illegible but I did the best I could to get the information. Some of the Headstones were partially illegible and when reviewing these inscriptions, this needs to be taken into consideration. This should have been done many years ago. Some names are sometimes spelled differently. Also I believe occasionally when a name was quite long, the inscriber abbreviated the name by omitting a letter to have room for the name on the Headstone. There are probably quite a few burials in this cemetery that do not have Headstones and some stones are broken and misplaced. When I finished this project, I had a little over 400 entries.

Although I show this cemetery in the northwest corner of the N.E.¼ of section 31, this ¼ section may extend some west from the cemetery. I could not determine the quarter section line exactly without a survey.

PREFACE
County Line Cemetery

The County Line Cemetery is located on the north side of the DeKalb – Steuben County Line, also known as State Road 4. It is 2 miles west of Ashley, Indiana, in Salem Township, Section 35, Steuben County Indiana.

This is an old cemetery with burials dating back to 1846. It contains 1 acre and the land came from two farms. Jacob Krum donated the first ½ acre to the east side for public burial purposes. The west ½ acre came from the John Zimmerman farm.

I can remember of some burials in this cemetery, but for several years it is very occasional for a burial in this cemetery. The maintenance for the past several years has been under the jurisdiction of the Salem Township Trustee. This consists mostly of mowing the grass. This cemetery is in a high state of negligence. There are many broken stones, some piled here and there and many are illegible. Had I know it was in such bad condition before I started, I probably would not have attempted this project. I worked on some stones 10 and sometimes 15 minutes trying to determine what was wrote thereon. I persevered because we can preserve on paper that which is being lost forever on stone.

I could not find a plat map or any records for this cemetery, although some surely must have existed. The only information that I could find was at the Angola Public Library. There they had a card file alphabetically filed. I went there for additional information but could not find much beyond what I had gathered. It seems information for this card file was gotten the same way I got mine, but a few years earlier. I found only a little additional information. Sometimes information from this card file did not coincide with my information. When this happened, the question was, did I make a mistake or did the other person make a mistake? I know we both did the best we could and no one can do a lot of this kind of work and not have some mistakes. Any person who uses these records will need to consider the conditions in which the information was gotten and allow for variances. It should have been done 75 years ago. While I make these statements, also I should say that much or most of the information should be quite accurate and helpful.

From an old newspaper column

After I had finished copying inscriptions from the County Line Cemetery and checked the card file in the Angola Library, I found more information. While visiting my wife's sister, I found some old newspaper clippings in her parent's Bible. One was a long newspaper column that listed several years deaths. The title of the column article was missing as well as the paper's name and date. I noticed many names of people buried in the County Line Cemetery. I copied 32 names of those I remembered to compare to my inscription list. I started to make corrections in my work and found so many discrepancies, I decided to print the newspaper names separate and let interested people decide their fate. I know I do make mistakes but not to the extent that these newspaper names disagreed. Some things they printed I know are not accurate but many dates did agree. I usually assume the Headstones, when legible, to be accurate, although I know of a few that have mistakes. For whatever they are worth, they are printed herein.

PREFACE
The Forney Cemetery

The Forney Cemetery is located on the east side of County Road 31, ½ mile north of County Road 10 in the farthest south west corner of Section 9, Smithfield Township, DeKalb County Indiana. This is one cemetery that I know something about as to its origin because it involves some of my ancestors. I have had and probably still have the original deed for this land from the United States of America signed by President Martin Van Buren (probably by a deputy) in 1837. I also have deeds for this land since 1845.

Newton and Elizabeth Williamson for $347 deeded this 160 acre tract to Josiah Shawn on March 14, 1845. Josiah and Susan Shawn for $367 deeded this 160 acre tract to William Hoffman on Aug. 7, 1845. Mary J. Hoffman (probably William's heir) on Dec. 24, 1873 deeded an undivided 1/3 of 3 tracts of land, one tract located in Section 16, for $2134 to Thomas Hamman (my great grandfather). It appears he only bought 80 acres. I assume Thomas was an heir to the Hoffmans and inherited the remainder. In this deed and every deed thereafter, for this tract of land, it says except: A private burial ground in the south west corner of Section Nine (9) seven rods long north and south and five (5) rods wide east and west. It contains .22 acres. This Forney Cemetery was started while the Hoffmans owned the land between 1845 and 1873. Maria Hoffman was buried in this cemetery in May of 1857. The Hoffmans bought this cemetery land but never sold it, so it still belongs to the Hoffmans.

On Nov. 12, 1880 Thomas Hamman and Elizabeth Hamman for $5400 sold 120 acres of this 160 acre tract to John Hamman (my grandfather) except the cemetery.

My grandfather, John Hamman died in 1930 and my grandmother Lydia (Rohm) Hamman died in 1936 and my mother Effie T. (Hamman) Reinoehl inherited this tract, except the cemetery. My mother paid taxes on this tract for several years while still in the name of John Hamman and it was not transferred to her name until August 16, 1950.

Effie Reinoehl died in 1968 and this tract bordering the cemetery was sold to my sister and brother-in-law Otis B. and Lydia Ruth Parr. Most of this original tract owned by my grandfather has been sold out of the family except Otis B. Parr may yet own a small tract adjacent to the cemetery.

I obtained a plat map of the Forney cemetery from the county surveyor. It shows only the west half was ever platted into lots. Each lot is 10 feet east and west and 20 feet north and south. There are 4 rows with 6 lots in each row.

When I visited this cemetery in the summer of 1999, there was only 1 Headstone standing and visible. When I first remember this cemetery it seems there were about 8 or 10 visible stones. Except for the Henry Forney Headstone, the others are all on the ground and over grown with vines and shrubs. It is an abandoned cemetery that has reverted back to nature. Most of the inscription information for this cemetery I obtained from library records of work done by Mrs. Clarence Bowers who copied these names probably in the late 1970's or early 1980's.

PREFACE
Hessen Cassel Cemetery – 2000

The Hessen Cassel Cemetery is located on the south side of County Road 20, 1353 ft. west of the northeast corner of Section 35, Township 35N., Range 12E. in Fairfield Township, DeKalb County, Indiana. I obtained a plat map from the county surveyor's office and found that it was laid out for 2 plots, each 10 ft. east and west and 20 ft. north and south. It is a 20 foot square cemetery. It is located just off the road right –of-way and has a 4 foot ornamental wire fence partially erected on the west and south sides. I believe at one time the fence may have encompassed the entire cemetery. The graves are sunken considerably from level and the cemetery is not maintained in any way. There are 3 stones on the site. The farthest south stone is small and says, John W., son of R.R. Rice, died May 3, 1860, aged 8 yrs. and the months and days are illegible. The center stone is flat on the ground and says only R.R.R. The other side may have something on it but at the time I was there, the ground was frozen and I did not turn it over. The north Headstone is the larger and says R.R. Rice died Nov. 23, 1862, age 36 yrs., 1 mo., 12 da. This stone was not easily all legible but I determined the figures as best I could. The R.R. Rice and date of death were quite legible. The R.R. stands for Richard R. as found in the courthouse deed transfers. Richard R. Rice's wife's name was Hannah, according to court deed records. This Richard R. Rice name appears quite often in the land deed records. At one place I noticed the courts issued a judgment against Richard Rice. He may have been a "wheeler and dealer." The 1987 DeKalb County History says, about the Hessen Cassel Cemetery: It is rumored that a father and son were hung and then buried here as horse thieves. There may be others buried in this cemetery but do not have Headstones.
